

BEXLEY BEAUMONT

RETAINED COUNSEL SERVICE

Flexibility, certainty and support in a changing world.

The working practices and prospects for businesses in almost every industry sector continue to evolve fast.

Trying to balance legislative or regulatory changes with external commercial threats can be an immensely difficult task for companies of any size.

When you add in the extra pressure involved in meeting peak workflows, coping with special projects or staff shortages, the stress can be considerable.

Rather than worry, why not take advantage of the Retained Counsel service offered by Bexley Beaumont?

It is already relied on by a growing number of businesses like yours to deal with existing issues and identify emerging threats and opportunities in a flexible, cost-effective fashion starting from just £2,000 a month.

How does the Retained Counsel service work?

The Retained Counsel service has been designed to give you an appropriate level and type of support for the individual needs of your business.

As the name suggests, it is a contracted arrangement, under which one of Bexley Beaumont's legal experts operates as lead counsel to advise across a range of commercial matters of importance to your organisation.

However, it is as flexible as you need it to be and enables you to call on the services of additional members of the Retained Counsel team as and when required, either when there are capacity issues or more specialised legal knowledge is required.

That scalability doesn't just apply to how we work but our fees too.

The basic package includes between 10 and 20 hours' per month for as little as £200 per hour, depending on the nature of the work.

By using the Retained Counsel team either as a stand-alone function or as support to your in-house legal department, you therefore have the certainty of being able to lock in your legal costs at the start of the financial year.

Even more than having price certainty, the more that you use the service, the greater the discounts in relation to our ad hoc hourly rates.

What are the benefits of the Retained Counsel service?

At the heart of the Bexley Beaumont Retained Counsel service is high quality clear, pragmatic and strategic advice to businesses.

Household-name clients already appreciate that it adds genuine value to their executive function, allowing them to address a wide range of commercial, contractual, compliance and risk management challenges with experienced legal practitioners.

At a time when companies are still grappling with how best to integrate remote working to the office or factory-based models of old as well as meeting the economic difficulties posed by recession and rising costs, Bexley Beaumont offers great knowledge and reassurance to make things much more straightforward.
